InnovaFonds strengthens its teams with the arrival of Nicolas Bouchery as Head of Investor Relations

InnovaFonds is strengthening its investor relations function with the arrival of Nicolas Bouchery.

A graduate of ESSEC, Nicolas Bouchery joins InnovaFonds' Paris team as Head of Investor Relations, after 20 years of experience in investment banking (Lehman Brothers, Credit Suisse, HSBC), where he was in charge of selling equity products to institutional investors for the France, Benelux and Scandinavia regions. With the arrival of Nicolas Bouchery, InnovaFonds confirms its desire to continue to deploy its know-how as a responsible investor, expert in the industrial sector, through its three strategic pillars: regional funds, national funds and flex funds. The objective is also to enrich the service offer to entrepreneurs and institutions.

"It is with deep conviction that I join InnovaFonds, whose entrepreneurial approach, industrial expertise and decarbonization objectives are major assets to meet the challenges of a sustainable reindustrialization of our country. At the same time, we want to open up access to our funds more widely and enhance the service we provide to our current investors, both entrepreneurs and institutions, in terms of ESG, digitalization and co-investment solutions," said Nicolas Bouchery.
